

> Claim View

Optis' Claim View provides a gateway for employers to access claim details from any source. With an intuitive interface that's powered by the Optis Insights data warehouse platform, Claim View integrates your typically disparate claims data and gives you and your team visibility into your claim information in an accessible, organized and meaningful interface.

Unlike reporting, where information is static, Claim View provides the ability to drill down into an employee's claim detail, providing you with not only the "what" but the "why" for the history of the claim. Claim View also supports adding notes and other documentation to each claim and provides users with the ability to configure reminders and other workflow configurations.

These features provide improved benefits for your return to work program and other investments in employee productivity.

OPTIS CLAIM VIEW FEATURES

- Ability to integrate all of your people data into one location for better data management and insight
- Gain a real-time, comprehensive view of each claim from start to finish and transition through carriers
- Ability to document claim notes within the claim for communication consistency among your team
- User-generated task alerts to set reminders and maximize efficiency & workflow
- Configured user security with the ability to grant tiered access to claim information
- Vendor management using the highest standard of best practices in information security
- Intuitive, cloud-based platform which allows you to access your information anywhere that has an Internet connection